TAFTVILLE
Party Goes Fishing at Pachaug Pond —Personal Notes About Village.
On Thursday the Misses West and Miss Connell were in Coventry calling on Miss Day.
The Misses Johanna and Anna Kean have returned from East Ridge, N. H., where they have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. Ashly, for the past three weeks.
Miss Mary Connell of New York, who has been visiting the Misses Katherine and Nora West of Merchant avenue for three weeks leaves today (Friday) for her home.

A party of men from Taftville have gone on a fishing trip to Pachaug pond near Coventry, Conn. The members of the party are well-known fishermen and without doubt they will break all records with their catches.
A party of young ladies from Taft-ville spent the day, Thursday, at the Golden Spur below New London. The members of the party were the Misses Florence and Lizzie Weston, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Ethel Mudgeman and Miss Christina Miller.
Socialist Talks.
A young man proclaiming to be of the socialist party gave the people of Taftville great amusement free of charge Thursday during the noon hour. Mounted on a sign box near the post office and surrounded by a throng of small boys he talked and gesticu-lated fiercely midst shouts of "Get the book," etc., for about twenty minutes.
At the end of this time the young man dismounted having denounced every leading republican, democratic and prohibition leader of today. It cannot be imagined to what flights of oratory this speaker might have ascended if the boys had not finally drowned out his words by their derisive shouts.
The young man may congratulate himself on having escaped without being a target for overripe garden fruit.

Miss Katherine Smith of Washington street is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tubbs, in Boston.
Mrs. Whittemore of Hudson, Mass., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Mc-Fitt, of East Town street.
Miss Florence Bushnell of West Town street has returned after spending several weeks at Lake George.
Miss Holmes and Miss Waters, who have been the guests of Mrs. Philo Hard of Washington street, have returned to Brooklyn, N. Y.
Little Margaret Mahoney, daughter of William Mahoney, of Scotland road, who has been seriously ill, was reported a little better on Thursday.
Miss Julia A. Connell has returned to her home on West Town street from Block Island and left on Thursday for several weeks' visit in Providence.
Miss Florence Robbins of West Town street entertained a few friends at whist Wednesday evening in honor of her guest, her cousin, Miss DeWitt, of North Adams.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Standish and daughter of East Orange, N. J., are the guests of Mr. Standish's mother, Mrs.
Louis J. Saxton, of Wightman avenue.

Complaint has come from many people in this vicinity that boys stealing their fruit, and they are keeping on the sharp lookout for the offenders. One woman has lost a quantity of especially fine plums. The blunder trees have also been damaged by the boys climbing them.
Three hundred dollars was recently paid in Colombia for a single plant of a rare variety of orchid. The natives, in order to expedite the collection of the orchid, fell the trees on which they grew and then strip them of these floral parasites.

State Franco-American Convention
Will be Held Here September 7 and 8 when Governor Pothier of Rhode Island will be One of the Prominent Speakers—Outing of Local Club.

Preparations are under way by the Franco-American club for the entertainment of the state convention here Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 7th and 8th, and a lengthy meeting of the club was held Thursday evening in Foresters' hall, at which some of the committee members appointed and a number of the smaller details discussed. Dr.
G. A. Comeau, president of the club, was in the chair, and J. B. Caron was secretary.
The convention will have in attendance from 250 to 300 delegates, representing every French club in the state, and 700 to 800 guests. It meets once in every two years, the last time being in Bridgeport, and the coming gathering will be the 10th state Franco-American convention.
Among some of the arrangements already completed, it has been decided that the convention will be opened by a mass celebrated at St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning, after which the regular business session will begin in the hall. Speakers of prominence are to be secured and Governor Arambush of Rhode Island will be here for the morning of the opening day.
All the sessions of the convention are expected to be of great interest and the local club has plans on hand to make the delegates remember their visit to Norwich with pleasure, as this is the first time the state Franco-American convention has ever met here.
P. H. Ethier, Louis H. Brunelle, P.
Sabourin, Joseph P. Brunelle and A.
Racine have been named as delegates by the local club. The reception committee to meet incoming delegates at the trains was named Tuesday evening as follows: Dr. G. A. Comeau, P. H.
Ethier, Frank Joubert, E. Rouche, J. B.
Caron, Peter Sabourin, P. H. Ethier and
A. Racine.
In addition to the convention plans the meeting also completed details for its annual picnic, which will be a clambake in the middle of the afternoon, with a programme of sports, to be carried out to equal the successful picnic of a year ago.

ANNUAL OUTING OF
TUCKERBUNG CLUB.
Held at Clubhouse in Poquetanuck Cove and Proved Most Successful in Its History.
The 20th annual outing of the Tuck-erburg association was held on Thursday at their clubhouse, in Poquetanuck Cove, at which there was an attendance of about seventy, there being guests present from many points in southern New England.
That it was the most successful affair ever held was the consensus of opinion, and to this was added that of C. S. Brewster of North Attleboro, Mass., who for the past seventeen or eighteen years has been a regular attendant at the enjoyable affairs.
There was a large bus load of attendants, while others went down in carrriages, returning early in the evening. At noon there was a clam chowder, while shortly after 4 o'clock the bake was opened and to full justice was done. Everything was the best to be had, and prepared by F. Wright. It was one of the best bakes ever enjoyed there. There were all the things which go to make up a first class bake.
During the day the members entered into the spirit of the occasion, and there were games and sports for all.
The baseball game in the afternoon, for which Thomas Noels was the best to be had, and prepared by F. Wright. It

WOMAN HELD FOR
THE SUPERIOR COURT
Out Under $300 Bonds on Charge of Adultery—Men Sentenced for Trespass.
In the city court on Thursday morning the continued case against Christina Ferraro charged with adultery was called. The principal witness is her husband Antonio, and it is claimed she has been living with Joseph Vi-terito of this city by whom she has a child and who recently slashed her in the head. Attorney Day appeared for the woman and quoted much law but Judge Brown found probable cause and held her for trial before the superior court under $300 bonds. She was released about 7:30 o'clock in the evening. It is said that she was forced into her marriage and that she did not care for her husband previous to their marriage.
Charged with trespass John Palmer and T. Maloney of Providence and Charles Stewart of Newburyport, who were arrested on Central Vermont track Wednesday night were found guilty and sentenced to five days in jail and taxed the costs amounting to $4.12 each.

ANOTHER SPRINKLING OF
ASPHALT AND WATER
Last Consignment Placed on Streets by Commissioner Fellows—Efficiency in Dust Laying Not Yet Determined.
On Thursday, Street Commissioner Fellows had another sprinkling of asphalt and water for the purpose of laying the dust, this being the last of the consignment he received. The dust was laid on the streets of the city, and the result will be watched with interest.
Commissioner Fellows stated Thursday that he was not ready to give his opinion on the success of the trial but wanted to allow the second coat to get in and see how it made the statement of what he thought of the experiment.

FAMILY OF MUSICIANS.
The Yeagers are Therefore Well Known Hereabouts.
Henry A. Yeager, who has been passing his vacation at the home of his father, Valentine Yeager, and family on Palmer street, Pawcatuck, has returned to Philadelphia, Pa., to fill a season's engagement as member of the Gayety theater orchestra. For number of previous seasons Mr. Yeager has been playing in the Casino theater orchestra in Philadelphia, and now makes this advanced change.
Mr. Yeager's many friends and acquaintances will be pleased to know of his success and increased prosperity in the Quaker City.
His brother, Otto Yeager, formerly of the Front Street orchestra, Trenton, N. J., is spending his summer vacation in New York City, combining business with pleasure, and another brother, William C. Yeager, also a musician, has for some years made his home in Gotham, while another brother, Eugene Yeager, has for a number of years been connected with the establishment of J. B. Hens & Co., manufacturers of printing machinery, etc., in the same city.
Taken all in all, the Messrs. Yeager, father and sons, most assuredly comprise a musical family, and have for many years.
Charles Yeager, an elder son and brother and a noted musician, orchestra leader and composer, died at his home in Norwich, where with his family he resided some years ago. Valentine Yeager, the head of this interesting family of musicians, is still alive and hearty at an advanced age, and quite recently observed an anniversary of his birthday at his home in Pawcatuck.
A daughter and sister, Mrs. Harry H. Robinson, of Pawcatuck, is also a proficient musician, while Robert Yeager of New York is somewhat musically inclined, it is said. In his day and time Valentine Yeager has organized and directed many bands of musicians, while most of the boys have at various times been members of bands and orchestras with traveling show organizations.
All-steel street cars are being made for the United States Railway company of St. Louis. Steel is to take the place of wood, not because of the danger of fire or destruction in collision, but because the cars can be made lighter in this way, and will cost less for upkeep.
Owing to the absence of filatures in Manchuria, wild silk cocoons have been sent to Chefoo, and even here the reeling might be improved upon. In view of this an American merchant has proposed to start filatures in Auntings to treat these cocoons for the foreign market and to lighten the cost of production.
It is claimed for Morris E. Sterne, died many years ago, that he was the inventor of the system of fire drills that is now in use throughout this country and in Europe.

NEW BOOKS.
Food Preservation.
The proper preservation of food for future consumption apparently appeals so strongly to the National Association for the promotion of public health that what organization has issued a small volume dealing exhaustively with the various phases of the subject. The volume traces the history of the science of food from earliest times to the present, and presents a symposium of opinions from various authorities in which the present status of the national food law is upheld. The work, which appears to have been carefully done, is frankly in opposition to many popular beliefs upon its subject, and yet because of that, it is all the more valuable. It is a book that should be in the hands of every citizen, and it serves to throw considerable light upon the controversy that now exists with regard to certain preservatives, and which all thinking individuals have come to regard as a purely commercial campaign carried on and kept alive by the advertisers. However, the small book will doubtless be of clear use in food question, and it is well supplied with a list of bibliography of authorities setting forth all the experimental work with the preservative question.
It is interesting also to note that various authorities are quoted who have been supposed to be unalterably opposed to the present food law, and about disposition of and attitude toward food preservatives, among them Dr. Harvey W. Wiley. A resume of the bibliography would seem to indicate the findings of those chemists who find no objection to the use of a proper preservative.

Haaren and Poland's Famous Men of Modern Times. By John Haaren.
LL.D., District Superintendent of Schools, New York City, and A. B.
Poland, Ph.D., Superintendent of Schools, Newark, N. J. Cloth, 12mo, 352 pages, with illustrations.
Price 50 cents. American Book Company, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago.
This volume for supplementary reading is simple and attractive, following the lives of thirty-three great soldiers, statesmen, scientists and rulers, from Columbus to Gladstone. Each brief biography forms a center about which the pupil can gather the prominent events of the country and epoch.
There can be no quicker way of gaining the pupil's attention, and the surprise of holding it, than to find that no better method of acquainting young people with the great facts of history than that which gives them a knowledge of the men by whom history has been made. The illustrations are numerous and beautiful, and add much to the attractiveness of this helpful and interesting book.

The Serpent in Kansas.
The Winfield Free Press gives this account of the monster: The sea serpent of the Atlantic coast reports will have to take a back seat for a queer amphibious creature that is reported in the Walnut river here by W. H. Kinney and H. G. Case, who were fishing near the mouth of Black creek Wednesday. Kinney bears evidence of conflict of some kind, his wrist is gashed as with a saw. The monster he says was about 100 feet long, and was seen on the river monter when it made a desperate effort to get into a boat occupied by himself and his companion.
The two men were fishing for bass and channel catfish, when they saw the monster jump out of the water after a fish which Case had pulled up.
The first sight of the creature led them to believe that it was a huge eel, but its second appearance was more terrifying. The thing dashed close up to the boat after one of the captured fish. It had a loose fluke on its snout and measured about six feet in length.
Its general facial appearance was like a catfish, except for the sharp horn. It was the horn which out Kinney.
The strange visitor managed to crawl over the bow of the boat before the occupants could recover from their amazement. It impaled a bass which he took in his mouth, and finally the creature slid back into the water.
It was its tail, which seemed to have sponge-like qualities, and finally the air was filled with a fine spray that blinded and drenched the fishermen.

Old Friends.
There never was a ship yet that did not have one person aboard who boasted eternally of the number of times he had crossed the Atlantic.
Now it is 39 times, now it is 45 times.
Every ship carries invariably this one passenger who seems to have devoted his whole life in making a record for Atlantic crossings.
"I once heard a Detroit girl poke a little fun at a passenger of this type.
He said to her:
"Do you know, this is my 57th crossing."
"Is it?" she said, indifferently. "It's my 95th."
"Really?" the man exclaimed.
"Oh, yes, indeed," she answered, yawning. "It's an old story with me, crossing the Atlantic now. Why, actually, I always recognize more than half the waves we meet!"

Pat Blundered.
Attorney John J. Sullivan tells a story about a Missian welder of the pick who had been digging a trench for a gas pipe leading to a private residence on the edge of the city.
Contemplating the excavation and comparing its capacity with the loose dirt he shook his head in doubt. "Be this and be that," he said, "I'm thinking I'll not have room in the ditch for awl the dirt on the pile, bad cess."
"But," said a bystander, "why not, Pat?"
"Sure," he made reply, "because I didn't dig it deep enough."—Cleveland News.

A Serious Offense.
The delegates to the Trans-Mississippi congress "loudly cheered" Gifford Pinchot yesterday. But it was after he had called a multimillionaire a "soldier of the common good." What will they think of this in Africa?

In Dry Kansas.
Under the prohibitory law it is im-the sanitary law it is difficult to

END OF A RED NOSE
New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections.
A peculiar feature of posium, a new flesh-colored ointment, is that it is naturally colorless and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion, or for pimples, red noses, or any other inflammations, blanching, or discolorations, its presence cannot be detected. It can thus be applied, in the daytime, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the action of healing and curing proceeded in a few days. It can be had of any pharmacist who sells pure drugs. Lee & Osgood's and Smith's drug store in Norwich, Larue's in Putnam, Woodward's in Danvers and Chesbro's in Willimantic make a specialty of it. Fifty cents' worth will answer either for the troubles mentioned or for curing ordinary cases of eczema. Itching stops at once.
Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York, can secure, by mail free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.
